Alvord Known to Bookmakers.

Bookmakers tonight talked of nothing else but the story of the defalcation of the note teller of the First National bank. Every bookmaker at the Saratoga race track knew him. For them his nod was sufficient for a bet of thousands and never during the season did they have to wait for the collection of his wagers.

FIGHTS FOR THE FLAG HE LOVES

Plends with His Fellow Americans Not to Allow Bryantsm to Sully the Hanner Patriotism Has Always Kept So Bright.

The big tent at the corner of Capitol avenue and Fifteenth street was the scene of another big republican rally last night, the occasion being an address by General Daniel E. Sickles under the auspices of the Union Veteran league. The seats were all occupied except a few of the outer rows at either end.

Just prior to the hour of the opening of the meeting the Union Veteran league came marching down to the tent to the martial srains of a half dozen fifes and the thunder of as many drums; over 100 strong. Forming in lines along each side of the central aisles it constituted itself a guard of honor. Down through the ranks of grizzled veterans soon afterwards passed the one-legged guest of honor to the stage, amidst the warm greetings of his old comrades and the enthusiastic cheers of the swelling crowd. He was excerted by a committee led by Mayor Moores, Hon. C. J. Greene, Hon. C. H. Dietrich, County Clerk Haverly, J. N. Westberg, W. W. Bingham, Edward Rosewater, Captain H. E. Pelmer and many other prominent republicans. Judge Strawn also accompanied him as commander of the veterans, who presided at the meeting. The Rough Rider quartet of York put the audience in proper tone by a topical song. each verse concluding with the melodious assurance that "When the votes are counted Nebraska will be in line."

In presenting General Sickles Judge Strawn paid a tribute to his valor in the field and his continued efforts ever since to perpetuate the lessons then inculcated. General Sickles spoke sitting, with his left 16, was dispelled today when the testimoney arm thrust through his crutches. It has none else to a place where signalling could be now, but one harrowed from the populists.

Bryan as a Monopoly.

One reason why I am opposed to Mr. Bryan is because he is a monopolist. Notwithstanding his pronounced opposition to the monopoly he is trying to monopolize the nominations of all political parties. With his two feet he is endeavoring to stand on three platforms. If he could have secured the middle-of-the-road nomination he would have tried to stand on four. But the middle-of-the-road populists disclaim Bryan as a fusionist. The old-time Jacksonian and Jeffersonian democrats cannot claim him because he opposes everything that democrats want and advocates everything they don't want. The speaker recalled how his grandfather, as a Jeffersonian democrat, extolled Jefferson for the Louisiana purchase and his father, as a Jacksonian democrat, commended a similar course in that democratic patriarch.

Mr. Bryan is the first candidate who ever Bryan as a Monopoly. aid of a field glass, read off the quotations as fast as they were posted to an operator presiding at a telegraph instrument. The speaker paid no heed to the interruption, but a moment later, when a policeman was seen ushering the man out, General Sickles said: "O, don't mind that man. He don't bother me a bit. In a crowd so big as this you are lucky if you have only one fool. General Sickles said that the difference between McKinley and Bryan is that the ormer accepts responsibility for his own acts, while Bryan does not.

Referring to militarism, the speaker reviewed the careers of Washington, Jackson, Lincoln and Grant, all of whom had beeen decried as dictators, but who at the end of their careers had retired to private life and nebody was hurt.

But there was a time when this country was really threatened with militarism. That was when Billy Bryan joined the army. But the war was ended before Bryan learned to put on and take off his uniform or to walk without tripping over his sword. And in that the Lord was good to us, for if Bryan had ever got into a battle and out of it with credit we would have had a genuine militarist. He would have moved upon the White House and taken possession and there he would have remained. The business session of the day was held this afternoon at Leiderkranz hall. Immediately after the organization Right Rev. T. U. Dudley, bishop of Kentucky, delivered the address of welcome. He ridiculed the idea that the missionaries are responsible for the troubles in China. The response was made by Right Rev. John Scar-The afternoon was spent in receiving the

Has Never Fought a Trust. General Sickles denied that Bryan had ever availed himself of his years of opportunity to lift a hand to save the people from the trusts, about which he now says so much.

In one plank of his Kansas City platform he refers to government by injunction. By that he means that he would deprive the courts of their ancient function of restraining the commission of a wrongful act. If that were done, he would like Mr. Bryan to tell how he would ever stop the operations of a trust, as the injunction is the only means of stopping a trust.

What does Mr. Bryan stand for? I am sorry to say it here, among the people of his own state, but it is my duty to arraign him as a public enemy, because the whole tenor and trend of all of Mr. Bryan's speeches have been to array class against class, neighbor against neighbor, employer against employe, commoner against capt-talist and one section against another, to disseminate ill feeling between us and our English cousins on the other side of the Atlantic, all tending to discord, enmity, hatred and destruction.

Negro Mobbed by His Own Race.
VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 23.—Gloster Barnes, negro, was lynched by a mot of his own people in the northern part of this county tonight. In a drunken fury Barnes murdered his wife, stabbed and hadly wounded a negro who interfered in a rifle duel with a white man who attempted to arrest him. He was caught by a posse after a desperate fight, in which he was shot through the tolgh. In charge of two negro deputies, Barnes was started for the county jail here. On the road his escort was put to flight by a big crowd of negroes, who took the murderer into a thicket and shot him to death. The speaker said that all of the great tatesmen of the country had endeavored to bring together the people of the various sections of the country and President Mo-Kinley has done more in that direction than any president since 1861. If it were not for the race question he would receive the electoral vote of more than half of the Great Potlash in Alaska.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 23.—A Times special from Tacoma gays: The greatest potlash given for many years in Alaska is now in progress at Kulickwan, near Pyramid harbor. George Giarfish, the richest Alaskan chieftain, who made his money in trading, is giving away the savings of twenty years that his name may be handed down as a generous chieftain. Two thousand Indians are present. Feasting, dancing and gaming make up the program, which will last for a month. Ten thousand dollars worth of blankets, four tents, guns and hymnbooks will be distributed. By the time the feast is over Chief Giarfish will be penniless. One of the chief features of the revels are the gambling games, on which the Indians are staking everything. Great Potlash in Alaska.

United States is Awaiting Developments in Regard to Danish West Indies.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.-Relative to the European reports of the effort of the United States government to purchase the Danish West Indies, it is said here that there has been no sensible change in the status of this matter for some time past. The United States government is quietly awaiting developments in Denmark, where the last effective obstacle was interposed to transfer in the shape of a popular outery against the cession of the islands. When the Danish government is in position to make the sale, our government will be prepared to negotiate upon the subject afresh. The impression is conveyed here that the figure named as the price to be paid, $7,000,000, is far beyond the mark.
